

StArt

A unique workshop for Artist and
Designers with Learning and other
Disabilities
(August 23th to August 27th 2010)

Dear Students, Welcome to OCAD and the Centre for Students with Disabilities!!

You are invited to register for a fun free and innovative workshop designed just with you in mind. Build your confidence and prepare yourself for the challenges of first year by collaborating with a small group of students, staff and faculty as you stArt to draw your own path here at OCAD.

Prepare yourself for the challenges of the academic year by learning innovative strategies for getting an A+ at OCAD:

- Visit a Gallery and learn how to write a gallery review
- Discover unique advocacy skills and learn how they will be important at OCAD.
- Attend an orientation to the campus and support services.
- Create a personal learning plan to ensure academic success
- Express ideas through studio work
- Meet with other OCAD students with disabilities and hear about their university experiences
- Learn time management, research and writing skills, note taking, assistive technology, computer skills and more!

Fell Free to contact me for more information and workshop registration.

Sincerely,
Lisa Allen
