

LAND-BASED LEARNING

Saturday, September 21, 2019 | 1:00pm - 4:00pm

LOCATION

Baby Point, along the Humber River, Toronto

FACILITATORS

Sheila L. Maracle and Lauren Williams
from Six Nations of the Grand River Territory

FEE

$30

TO REGISTER

www.bit.ly/landbasedlearning or visit the “News & Events” page on the Faculty & Curriculum Development Centre’s website.

REGISTRATION DEADLINE

Monday, September 16, 2019

The land acknowledgement is just a start in working towards reconciliation. This workshop will share how the Haudenosaunee view their relationship to the land and waters through an understanding of the Thanksgiving Address. Participants will be taken out of the classroom for some land-based teachings from two Mohawk educators, Sheila L. Maracle and Lauren Williams, both educators based in Hamilton, and from the Six Nations of the Grand River Territory. Through traditional knowledge-sharing, personal stories and activities, participants will begin to develop their own understanding of having a connection to the land.

Note: This workshop is open to all faculty and staff members